

Trafalgar House welcomes new apprentices

Press release: 25 February 2025

Trafalgar House, a specialist third-party pensions administrator, has welcomed Bradley Bover, Amandeep Dhuper, Jodi Latimer and James Morrin as its latest group of apprentices, part of its ongoing commitment to making the pensions industry more accessible.

The apprenticeship scheme, which launched in 2023, is designed to bring new talent into the industry by providing structured training, hands-on experience, and professional development to equip aspiring professionals with the essential skills required to excel in the pensions industry. With no prior experience required, it offers a clear route into pension administration, helping to build a skilled and diverse workforce for the future.

Lisa Beckett, Head of People & Culture, commented: "A professional career should be accessible to anyone with the right attitude and willingness to learn. Our apprenticeship programme is about breaking down barriers to entry into pensions and supporting individuals to succeed. At Trafalgar House we are committed to creating a positive and inclusive working environment where everyone can thrive. In doing so we create a dynamic workplace where teams collaborate, and our clients benefit from a variety of ideas and creativity. We also believe it to be vital to the long-term sustainability of the industry to foster a new generation of diverse pensions professionals."

More details about the programme can be found here: Trafalgar House Pensions Administration Apprenticeships

Ends

Notes to editors:

Trafalgar House is a specialist pensions administrator.

Founded in 2006, our mission is to set the highest standard of pensions administration by any recognised measure. We achieve this through sustained investment in our people, processes and systems.

We started life as an in-house administrator. Our foundations are in quality and member experience. Since our creation, we have grown as a third-party administrator. Adopting technology and innovation from across the market, we have emerged as a business of administration experts.

We have offices in London and Farnborough, over 30 clients and 160 staff. We hold internationally recognised accreditations for quality, security, development, customer service and environmental protection.

Media Contacts

For all media enquiries please contact KBPR using the details below:

 KBPR.

keeping you connected

Kate Boyle

kate@kbpr.agency | 07930 442883