Quantum Advisory unveils new brand identity

Quantum Advisory, a leading provider of pensions and employee benefits consulting services, today announced the launch of a refreshed brand identity, marking a significant milestone in the firm's evolution.

The new branding represents a complete refresh of Quantum Advisory's visual identity and brand voice, aligning more closely with the firm's mission, continued growth, and forward-looking approach. It features a modern new logo and a redesigned website that delivers a more intuitive user experience, streamlined navigation, and richer content—offering greater insights into services, team, values, and specialist expertise.

Stuart Price, Partner, at Quantum Advisory said: "As the industry landscape continues to evolve, so too should we. This rebrand exercise is more than just a new look – it's a strategic move to align with our growth, expanding offerings and commitment to progression and innovation. We've grown considerably over the last few years and it's important for our brand to reflect and represent who we are today, and where we're going, whilst continuing to underpin what we stand for.

"Despite their crucial importance to members, and despite facing the same issues as their larger counterparts, the needs of small and medium-sized schemes are often overlooked. Our new brand is modern, streamlined, and most importantly, built around delivering even greater transparency, simplicity and connection for our clients – reflecting our commitment to supporting them in navigating an increasingly dynamic pensions landscape with confidence."

Price continued: "We have a number of exciting innovations on the horizon—across our services, and the markets we serve. While we continue to evolve, our goal remains unchanged: to work as partners in confidence with our clients by bringing clarity to complexity, offering trusted guidance, delivering tailored solutions and building lasting relationships, to make a real difference to small and medium-sized schemes."
