Sackers awarded Best Companies 2019 accreditation

Sacker & Partners LLP (Sackers), the UK's leading specialist law firm for pensions and retirement savings, has been officially recognised by Best Companies, achieving a 1-star status which recognises very good levels of employee engagement.

This is the first year that Sackers has been accredited by Best Companies. It was recognised for its high Best Companies Index score from the Best Companies survey, which measures how engaged people are at work and how they feel about their employer. It was also recognised in the Top 75 list of the Best small companies to work for in London.

Ian Pittaway, Senior Partner at Sackers, commented: "We are really proud that our staff feel so positive about working at Sackers. We do our best to support everyone in all areas of their professional development and wellbeing, and our distinctive culture is primarily formed by the people who make up this firm. People at all levels of our business are down to earth, approachable and reasonable. There is a respect for the individual and an acknowledgement that individual differences strengthen our team and enable us to provide a more rounded service to our diverse range of clients."

Jonathan Austin, CEO and Founder of Best Companies, commented: "I would like to congratulate Sackers on its achievement. Best Companies have been producing the Accreditation standard since 2006 to acknowledge excellence in the workplace. Organisations like Sackers have continued to focus on their employees and have been rewarded with an engaged workforce who tell us that this is a best company to work for."
